GREEN BUILD CONFERENCE 2022

In collaboration with REHDA Institute (RI), GreenRE will be hosting the 2nd Green Build Conference 2022 (GBC 2022) on 14 July 2022 at AVANTÉ Hotel, Petaling Jaya.

GBC 2022, a sustainable built environment focused 1-day conference will host influential speakers and industry renowned experts who have made an impact in the sustainable real estate industry. With climate change having an undeniable impact on the way we plan and manage cities, passivity is no longer an option, and businesses will need to take proactive adaptation measures to position as a sustainable business leader.

With the theme, 'Accelerating Sustainability in Malaysia's Real Estate Sector', GBC 2022 will be an exciting platform for delegates to expand their knowledge by learning new strategies, the latest cutting-edge innovations and gain valuable industry insights. Four major themes will be covered in the panel discussions namely National and Local Policies towards a Low Carbon Roadmap, Beyond Benchmarking and Reporting for ESG, Financing Sustainable Buildings and Transition towards Decarbonising the Property Sector Case Studies. GBC 2022 will be attended by developers, the construction industry, universities, government and professional agencies, sustainability consultants and providers, as well as members of the press.

Additionally in conjunction GBC 2022, GreenRE Award Presentation of Certified Platinum Projects (2019-2022) will be held during the opening of the conference.

AUDIENCE PROFILE

More than 200 conference delegates are expected from the following areas:-

- Mayors, Councilors and senior officers from various cities, municipalities, Government agencies, NGOs, Residents Associations (RAs), and the private and public sectors;
- Researchers, academicians and specialists in the fields of urban planning and development, education;
- Industry professionals, international organizations, and public and private institutions i.e. Property Developers & Building Managers, Real Estate Investors, Town Planners, Architects, Engineers, Landscape Architects, Valuers, Academicians and others; and
- Private corporations, students and other stakeholders.

PROGRAMME

Panel 1: Beyond Benchmarking and Reporting for ESG

Post COP-26 governments and businesses alike are racing ahead with bolder environmental commitments to address the growing concerns of climate change. Increasing transparency and accountability is therefore crucial and businesses will need to create effective roadmaps to stay competitive as we head towards decarbonising the property sector. Gain insights from our expert panel on the numerous tools available to improve corporate disclosure and reporting through benchmarks.

Panel 2: Sustainable Financing

As Malaysia expands our commitment towards carbon neutrality, the banking sector is encourage to expand its offerings for green financing. Hear from our experts as we examine financial tools available and the challenges faced by developers.

Panel 3: National and Local Policies towards a Low Carbon Built Environment

As Malaysia intensifies its efforts and commitments to transition to a low-carbon, climate-resilient economy, the government has increased the unconditional Nationally Determined Contributions (NDC) to reduce GHG emissions to 45% from 35% previously. A number of policy changes are underway to ensure Malaysia achieves carbon neutrality by 2050. Hear from KASA and MBPJ on how government and local authorities are strategising to shift towards building sustainable cities.

Panel 4: Case Studies on Emerging Trends in Green Buildings

What are the trends in green building design that have been a game changer? Discover best practices from industry leaders and gain insights on sustainable design and circularity, addressing embodied and operational carbon emissions as well as practical steps to achieve net zero.
